President's Message

May 11, 1955

Dear Alumni:

Please consider this as a special invitation to be with us at Lycoming for the commencement week end Saturday and Sunday, June 4 and 5. This bulletin is largely devoted to information concerning commencement which we hope will arouse your interest and influence you to decide to come.

Meet your classmates, and other friends, see the members of the faculty who were here during your student days, meet the new members, see the additions and improvements in buildings and grounds, and hear about the plans for the future.

I shall, naturally, hope to see just as many of you as possible.

I am especially pleased that the Class of 1922, the first class after Mrs. Long and I came to Williamsport, is planning a reunion though it is not their regular year. It will be their 34th instead of 35th. They were here for our first commencement and we are, naturally, pleased that they will be with us during our final commencement. Looking forward, therefore, with great pleasure to seeing many of you and with good wishes to you all, I am

Faithfully yours,

JOHN W. LONG
President

Baccalaureate and Commencement

In other parts of this Bulletin you find named the speakers who will be at Lycoming College for the Commencement week-end. We want to say here that from all indications this will be our most widely attended commencement week-end ever to be held at the college. Evidently, all roads lead to Lycoming. We rejoice to know that so many of you are planning to come back.

The classes holding reunions will be assigned specific rooms in which to meet to renew "old acquaintance" and to swap stories of successes since leaving the institution. We promise that all business incident to alumni activities will be done with dispatch. Everything points to a most pleasant and enjoyable week-end.

In the last issue of the Bulletin we announced Dr. J. Milton Rogers as the speaker for the Alumni Banquet to be held on Saturday evening, June 4 at 6 P.M.

We are printing the program for the two days so that you will have

DEAN HOFFMAN RESIGNS

William S. Hoffman, dean at Lycoming College, will resign at the close of the present academic year. Mr. Hoffman, who retired as dean of admissions and registrar at the Pennsylvania State University in the spring of 1949, came to Lycoming in the fall of that year as an administrative consultant. In September 1950, he was elected dean.

During his six years on the Lycoming campus, Mr. Hoffman has been active in many ways. A member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity and the recipient of the national organization's Order of Merit for distinguished service, Mr. Hoffman was instrumental in founding the chapter on the Lycoming College campus.

Mr. Hoffman organized Sachem, local honor society at Lycoming College, in May, 1951. He and Mrs. Hoffman recently established the Lambda Chi Alpha Loan Fund at the college a fund which provides small emergency loans for any regularly enrolled student.

Mr. Hoffman is an ardent sportsman at Lycoming. During the last 35 years he served as timekeeper for a member of intercollegiate boxing, wrestling and track events.

RELIGIOUS PROGRAM AT LYCOMING

In answer to inquiries by interested parents and alumni concerning the religious program at Lycoming College we are happy to present the following outline of religious activities on the campus. You will note in the outline a program that is both comprehensive and intensive. While Lycoming College is operated by the Methodist Church we are happy that students of all faiths and denominations are given every possible opportunity to worship within the church of their choice. A well educated person who desires to live a fully integrated life will seize every opportunity for spiritual growth in the same way he seeks to grow mentally, physically and emotionally. To that end we are happy to present the following program to you.

The Methodist Student Movement brings together Methodist students for study, meditation, and fellowship every Sunday.

The Student Christian Association, meeting bi-weekly, is interdenominational and affords an excellent opportunity for students of different backgrounds to understand each other's faith.

The Daily Prayer Service is held in the Clarke Memorial Chapel.

Religious Emphasis Week, an annual event, brings to the campus outstanding religious leaders to challenge the students with the need for a vital faith in God.

The Deputation Team Program gives the college an opportunity to have full-time Christian service present programs throughout the Annual Conference.

The John Wesley Club brings together all full-time Christian service students in order to help them more fully comprehend the task of the minister, the missionary, the deaconess, and others who devote themselves to full-time Christian service.

Five Christian Denominations, other than the Methodist, sponsor organized clubs for the students of their particular religious faiths.

The Lycoming College Choir renders through sacred concerts unusual service to the churches and religious organizations throughout the East.

Two Chapel Programs each week provide for the spiritual growth of the student.

Strong Courses in Bible and Philosophy are offered the student by qualified and capable instructors.

The Benjamin C. Conner Chapel is open at all times for private meditation and prayer.

Son Born To Mr. & Mrs. F. Dyer

Frederick Gurnsey Dyer, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Dyer on April 17, 1955. He weighed in at 6 pounds and 2½ ounces. The Dyers live at 527 Selma Street, Somerton, Philadelphia 16, Pa.

RAH! RAH! RAH!

Our College Placement Bureau, under the direction of Donald G. Remley, is beginning to harvest the fruits of last year's labor. Last year three of our College grads obtained positions (via Lycoming's Placement Bureau) with the Sears-Roebuck and Company. They are trained in the retail management program. Recently our Placement Office received word from the Sears-Roebuck and Company stating how gratified they are with the progress these men have made (all have made promotions) and complimenting the college on giving our youth such a worthy background. The three up-and-coming young men we are talking about are: Carl Stiber in York, Pa.; Melvin Fredrick in Chambersburg, Pa.; and Lester Helm in Williamsport.

DR. LONG TO BE HONORED

Dr. Long came to Williamsport in October, 1921, to become president of Dickinson Seminary. In the succeeding 34 years he developed the seminary into a junior college and later into the present four year degree granting liberal arts college.

A Sponsoring Committee headed by Judge Charles Scott Williams is working out the details of the dinner. Religious, business, educational and civic leaders are serving on the committee.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Fred G. Holloway, president of Drew University in Madison, New Jersey. Dr. Holloway worked closely with Dr. Long during the period of transition from junior college status to the four year college status.

Dr. Fred G. Holloway became president of Drew University in 1918 after a year in the deanship of Drew Theological Seminary. He served previously as president of Western Maryland College for 12 years and of Westminster Theological Seminary for three years. He joined the faculty of the latter school in 1927 as professor of Biblical languages.

A native of Newark, New Jersey, Dr. Holloway was awarded the A. B. degree by Western Maryland College in 1918 and the B. D. degree by Drew Seminary in 1921. He holds these honorary degrees: D. D., Western Maryland, 1932; LL. D., Dickinson College, 1936; L. H. D., Baldwin-Wallace College, 1947.

He was one of the ministerial delegates of the Methodist Church to the second annual assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Illinois, in 1954.

AU REVOIR

The skyline of Williamsport has been greatly changed! The Flock Property has been torn down and in its place a parking lot is being planned for approximately 128 cars. Needless to say, this additional parking facility will be greatly welcomed by everyone at Lycoming College.

Lycoming College To Train Elementary School Teachers

Lycoming College was given approval to train teachers in elementary education by the State Council of Education. Both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees will be granted to graduates in this field.

Robert F. Smith, head of the department of Education said courses in the new curriculum will start with the 1955 summer sessions. Ten courses of study will be added, including art, music, health, safety and the following courses in materials and methods: geography, mathematics, English, reading, science, social studies plus a special course in elementary school curriculum.

Mr. Smith announced that 12 of the 30 hours in education required for an elementary major will be practice teaching.

The college, whose four year program was authorized in 1947, received approval from the State Department of Education to grant baccalaureate degrees in 1948. Its first degrees in secondary education were awarded at the 106th commencement last June.

Mr. G. Heil Gramley suggests that many applications for study in elementary education have been received by the college.

Alumni of the college who want to prepare for teaching in the elementary field can do so by registering for the courses beginning this summer. Alumni who know of high school graduates who want to teach in the elementary field can now send them to Lycoming College. The program of teacher training, secondary and elementary, will enable Lycoming College to increase its service to a wider area of academic preparation than had been possible before.

REPORT ON ENROLLMENT

Figures released by the Director of Admissions indicates the enrollment of a large Freshman class next fall. Nearly twice as many acceptances have been received to date as against the same time a year ago. The number pending is much greater than a year ago. We are very happy to be able to make such a good report to you.

Alumni of Lycoming College are in a good position to help in our recruitment program. Send us the names of young men and women from your churches, communities and schools who you think will make good college students. We will follow up the leads you give us and while we do not promise to enroll 100% of those whose names you send we will promise to do our best in enrolling some of them here. Why not send along some names to the Director of Admissions today?

ALUMNUS HONORED

College led the way by electing Dr. Henninger to serve on the Board of Directors in 1953. In 1954 Dickinson College, Carlisle, elected him to serve the college in a similar capacity. On April 21, 1955 in a meeting held in New York City, the Board of Trustees of Drew University elected him to membership on that Board. This is a significant achievement. Lycoming College is proud to have been the first to recognize the keen interest and sound judgment evidenced by Dr. Henninger in those areas where education has played an important role.

In addition to the foregoing Dr. Henninger was chosen to visit Alaska during the month of March with other representative church leaders to lay plans for the establishment of a Methodist College in Anchorage.

During the past year he was elected a Trustee of the Pennsylvania Temperance League.

Elected a trustee of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches within the last year he has been named chairman of a committee of 15, composed of denominational leaders and prominent laymen across the state, to study the possibility of creating a Protestant Center for Pennsylvania. It is expected that the building being planned will cost $500,000.

Dr. Henninger's many friends rejoice with him in these achievements. He was the guest speaker on November 6, 1954 when the Benjamin C. Conner Chapel was dedicated on Lycoming College campus.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

A RESULT OR

DEDICATED LEADERSHIP

The following program is brought to the attention of our alumni since we feel it is a very definite tribute to the unusual contribution being made to music appreciation by Prof. Walter G. Melver. We are pleased to see many Lycoming alumni singing in the Civic Choir. Many of these alumni have been in the Lycoming College Acapella Choir and are taking this valuable background and experience into the work of the Civic Choir. We are proud of the vision, the painstaking leadership and the enthusiasm that has enabled Mr. Melver to promote such a program in the community.

As a climax to its Tenth Anniversary Season, the Williamsport Civic Choir will bring to the greater Williamsport area a festival of music. This is the first program of such a nature that the Choir has undertaken since it was organized ten years ago.

Some twenty choirs from the greater Williamsport area will join the Civic Choir in presenting this program which will extend over a two day period. Mr. Walter G. Melver, founder and director of the Civic Choir, is conducting area rehearsals of the various guest choirs participating in the event.

The initial program of the Festival will be presented Friday, May 13 at 8:30 P.M. in the Roosevelt Junior High School. Rosemary Kuhlmann, popular concert artist, who gained fame as the mother in Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors", will be the guest artist. She will be assisted by the Williamsport Civic Choir which will present a concert of selections chosen from the choir's programs of the past ten years.

On Saturday, May 14 at 10:00 A.M. the participating choirs will meet in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church where they will be asked to sing for each other. This program will be in no way competitive and will be completely volunteer in nature.

The third program will be presented that afternoon, Saturday, May 14 at 3:00 P.M. on the Lycoming College Athletic Field and will bring to a close the May Festival. Dr. John Finley Williamson, founder and director of the famous Westminster Choir College will be guest conductor for the massed choirs which will include approximately 500 voices.

Tickets for the Festival are now on sale and may be secured from any member of the Civic Choir or guest choirs. The tickets are $1.65 with tax included and if purchased before May 13 will admit the holder to all of the performances of the Festival. All tickets purchased May 13 and 14 will be $1.65 for each performance.

COLLEGE DAY OBSERVED

Guest speakers representing Lycoming and Dickinson Colleges appeared in many pulpits throughout the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference of The Methodist Church on Sunday April 26. The Annual Conference gives the Colleges the privilege of presenting the cause of Christian Higher Education in the churches to acquaint the membership with the work being done by the church in the field of higher education. Not only are the colleges represented by guest speakers, but the congregations are urged to give an offering to help support the colleges and to maintain the programs they advance.

The General Conference of The Methodist Church established a goal of fifty cents per member in an effort to bring the churches to realize their responsibility to the denominational colleges and universities throughout the United States. Many conferences of the church have reached this amount and in several conferences the suggested goal has been more than doubled. If the Methodist church is to achieve this goal it will mean sincere and consecrated effort by every person affiliated with the church. Surely, here is a goal worthy of our time and money.

Many alumni of Lycoming College are serving the church as pastors, members of Official Boards and in other capacities of leadership throughout the church. You are in an excellent position to hold before your people and congregations the need for reaching the suggested goal in your own church. We know that many of our alumni will accept the challenge to lead in this strategic area.

YOU CAN HELP!

Scholarship aid and part-time employment is the appeal of a Japanese girl whose ambition is to study at Lycoming College.

Sakue Tomohisa's letter explaining her desire to come to the college campus and her inquiry about financial assistance came to G. Heil Gramley, director of admissions.

A student with an exceptional background including a year at the Culture Center Institute, Tokyo, Miss Tomohisa is interested in writing as a career. She voiced a desire to begin study at Lycoming College with the opening of the 1955 fall semester.

The Japanese student selected Lycoming College upon the recommendation of her English instructor at the Culture Center Institute.

The foregoing information points to an ever increasing opportunity for Lycoming College to serve foreign students. Scholarship assistance is limited and the college must in most instances forego the privilege of helping these worthy students.

Alumni of the college who want to financially help one of these students may secure information by writing to G. Heil Gramley, director of admissions or to the Alumni Office.
